Heat up before you cook up.

It can be tempting to cook food before the pan is hot enough. Preheating your pan not only prevents food from sticking, it also ensures an even sear on meat or fish and bright, flavourful vegetables.

How do you know when your pan is hot enough?

A droplet of water will sizzle and jump around on the surface of the dry pan.

Tips & Tricks

When using an induction hob, the base of the pan should match the size of the burner. If a burner does not detect the cookware, try placing it on a smaller burner.

Designed specially for the PossiblePan, the included spatula fits the curvature of the pan and can safely rest on the lid handle during cooking.

Make sure your cookware and lids are dried thoroughly before using on the hob or in the oven.

If you notice grease or discoloring on the stainless steel handles, clean thoroughly with baking soda and white vinegar and then wipe with a sponge or soft cloth.
